

Newsletter of Fauld House

- Edition of Nov 30, 2025 -

Greetings

Welcome to our autumn edition! We've had plenty of seasonal fun at Fauld House, from carving pumpkins to crafting, baking, and visiting the garden centre. With autumn ending, we're now in full swing for the festive season.

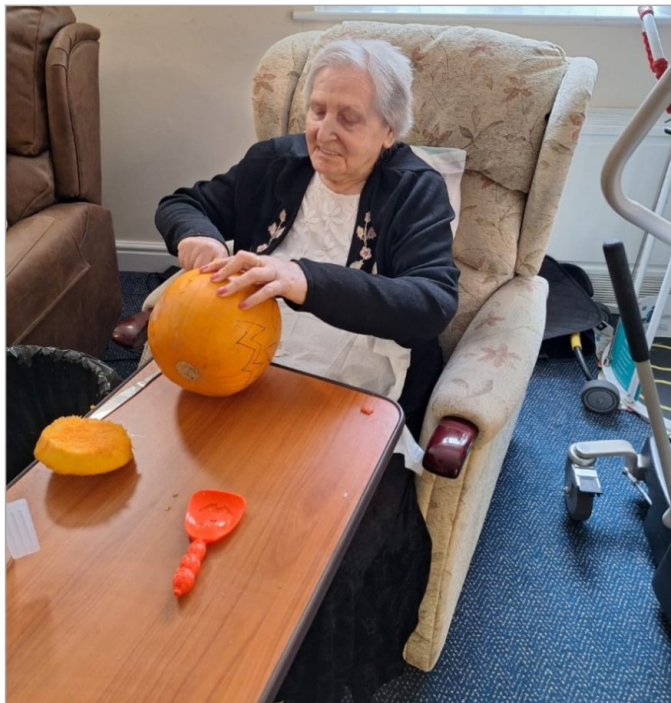

Autumn Feelings

We are embracing the coziness of autumn, Rachael has been busy decorating the home with autumn scenes

Halloween Party

We hosted a party for the residents, staff & families, there was pumpkin making, the children played games & had fun trick or treating with the residents

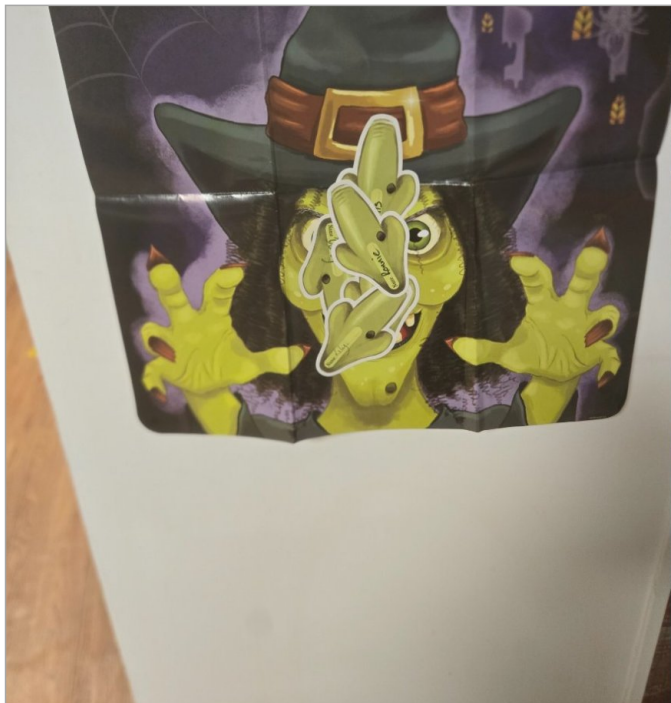

Pumpkin Carving

Our lovely pumpkins carved by the residents.

Trick or Treat

Trick or Treat

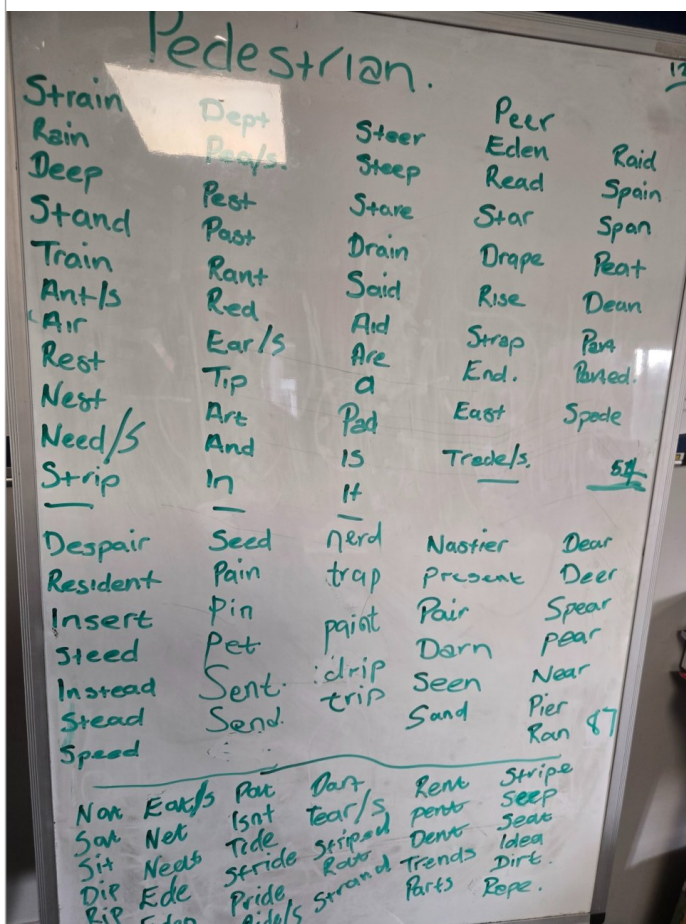

Spooky games

Lots of spooky fun and games at the Fauld!

Spooky Fun

Some more spooky fun at the Faulds! Was lovely to have our little trick or treaters enjoying themselves and entertaining the residents.

Make a word

We took the word PEDESTRIAN and put it on the board, and asked residents, staff & visitors to make a new word, we managed 123 new words, well done everyone

Cake Baking

The residents have been trying their hand at cake & bread making, they certainly havent forgotten how to make a cake!

Cheese, wine and mocktails!

We hosted a Cheese and wine tasting night which went down a treat! The residents loved tasting the different cheeses and enjoyed all kinds of meats and olives and pickles, lots of them enjoyed tasting the wine too! We also made some delicious mocktails.

Autumn Activities

The residents have made chocolate and toffee apples and helped make a Guy Fawkes for Bonfire night.

We have been busy making crochet poppies for remembrance day whilst reminiscing about the old days!

Berkeley Garden Centre

We took some of the residents to a little outing to Berkeley Garden Centre to look at the Christmas decorations and to have a tea cake and a hot cup of coffee.

Candlestick holders

The residents have been helping to make candlestick holders for Christmas!

Christmas hangers

Some of the residents have enjoyed helping to make Christmas hangers for their bedrooms with the smell of orange and cinnamon.
